PRACTICE AREAS

Construction

Our foundation is our experience in handling construction litigation, and consulting with clients to minimize and shift risk before litigation occurs. Our litigation experience extends from small, single-family home matters to some of the largest class action construction cases prosecuted in the United States. In the single-family and multi-family context, we primarily represent general contractors and developers. We represent product manufacturers, subcontractors, and developers on both commercial and residential high-rise construction projects, as well as conventional commercial construction developments. Our lawyers focus on early resolution of cases, with a strong emphasis on pursuit of any indemnity or additional insured rights possessed by our clients. This resolve is backed by our ability and willingness to try a case to verdict, if required.

We are equipped to represent construction clients on mechanic's lien claims, delay claims, and contractual disputes. We also consult with clients to develop their contracts, provide support in contract or early claim negotiations, and maximize risk shifting.

Collections and Subrogation

We are keenly aware that our clients cannot maintain their businesses unless they are paid for their goods and services. We aggressively pursue all avenues of collection from initial demand letters through litigation, trial and execution on judgments, if required. We work with our clients to insure that collection efforts comply with our clients' guidelines, are cost effective and most importantly, productive.

Housing Accessibility and Discrimination

Complementing our construction skill, knowledge and experience in our other areas of practice, we have likewise represented residential and commercial clients with matters pertaining to the Fair Housing Act and Americans with Disabilities Act and their unique litigation requirements. We have successfully negotiated settlements for our sophisticated clientele to limit risks of future exposure, or alternatively, gain appropriate relief for violations of these Acts under federal and/or state law.

Tort Litigation

We have successfully defended a wide array of tort and general liability matters. Our environmental experience includes defending property damage and personal injury actions arising from purported sick building syndrome, mold contamination, and water pollution, including an alleged cancer cluster. We also have experience litigating claims concerning premises liability, product liability, automobile accident, and other general liability matters.

Business Litigation and Transactional Matters

We have represented a variety of individuals and business entities in commercial disputes. We work to intervene early and avoid formal litigation if possible. We also provide a wide array of transactional advice, addressing risk transfer, preparing construction contracts, non-disclosure agreements, and sales/distribution agreements for our corporate clients.

Business Planning

Ms. Charlene Renwick anchors our growing Business Planning Division, which offers a wide range of services, from formation and operation of a new company to the sale or acquisition of an established business. We can assist with operating, buy/sell and shareholder agreements, contracts related to the development or winding down of your company and strategies for fulfilling your business objectives.

Casualty Litigation

We believe that frequent and continuous communication with our clients and our principals is the foundation of a successful defense. When a casualty claim is presented, time is of the essence. Liability and damages issues must be assessed at the earliest opportunity, so that a cost-effective defense strategy can be developed and implemented.

Our attorneys have successfully defended a wide array of tort and general liability matters arising out of alleged catastrophic occurrences, including incendiary, premises liability, building failures, with and without multiple injuries, and motor-vehicle accidents, all with wide-ranging damages alleged. Additionally, they have handled a wide variety of first-party insurance matters, including uninsured motorist and insurance bad faith cases.

We have also vigorously defended complex environmental claims alleging property damage and personal injuries arising from purported sick building syndrome, mold contamination, and water pollution, including an alleged cancer cluster. Experience in these unique and challenging areas of law continue to enhance and compliment our firm's pillar in the community.

Domestic Law

The Family law department in our Las Vegas office, anchored by Aurora M. Maskall, operates under the premise that, if your divorce is handled properly by an experienced attorney from the inception, you will receive the best possible settlement and avoid much of the emotional hardship that occurs during a divorce proceeding. You can trust our team of professional attorneys to provide you with the knowledge, communication, attention, and dedication you deserve. We value our clients and we fight for successful case results, whether it be through negotiation, mediation, or litigation. Our Family lawyers have experience in the following areas:

- Divorce Litigation
- Custody and Visitation
- Child Support and Enforcement
- Child Abuse and Neglect
- Spousal Support
- Domestic Violence Orders of Protection
- Juvenile Court
- Modification and Enforcement of Prior Orders
- Relocation
- Adoptions
- Paternity
- Post-Divorce Litigation
- Annulments
- Guardianships

Our legal team will guide, counsel, and help you understand your choices and will work with you towards your goals as quickly and cost-effectively as possible.

Administrative Law

We are qualified to represent individuals, including union members, in labor, employment, and administrative law matters. We handle grievances, administrative agency hearings, disciplinary appeals, appeals to the District Court, Equal Employment Opportunity cases, and disputes involving Fair Labor Standards Act.

Landlord/Tenant Disputes

Further serving our community's needs, we continue to expand our scope of practice to assist residential and commercial clients to respond to the ever-changing landscape of the local economy. We have experience representing both landlords and tenants in residential and commercial lease disputes, ranging from summary evictions to complex litigation and negotiation between sophisticated parties.

ATTORNEYS

PARTNERS

David S. Lee

Mr. Lee is the founding member and managing shareholder of Lee, Hernandez, Landrum & Garofalo, a Professional Corporation, with active offices in Nevada, California, Arizona and Florida. Mr. Lee graduated with honors from the University of Southern California before attending the Pepperdine University School of Law. Mr. Lee is a member of the Federal and State Bars of California and Nevada, and has appeared before the Nevada Supreme Court on multiple occasions. He holds the highest Martindale-Hubbell Preeminent AV Peer Review Rating.

Mr. Lee opened the predecessor office to Lee, Hernandez, Landrum & Garofalo in 1996. Mr. Lee has over 17 years of experience mediating and litigating complex construction and insurance matters. Mr. Lee has focused his practice in California, Nevada and Arizona on the representation of "target" defendant contractors (master developers, subdivision developers and general contractors) in construction defect related claims. Mr. Lee tried to verdict the first construction defect case in Southern Nevada.

Mr. Lee is often a featured speaker at County, State and National Seminars on construction defect cases, including a special engagement at the Nevada State Bar Convention. Mr. Lee has also served as one of the Bar's representatives (on behalf of developers and general contractors) on multiple committees aimed at improving pre-trial and trial procedure for construction defect cases in the State of Nevada. Mr. Lee shares the distinction of being named one of the Top 100 Lawyers of Southern Nevada for 2010 and 2013 by Nevada Business Magazine and Vegas, Inc.

In 2008, Mr. Lee began mediating and arbitrating various civil cases, including several cases where he has acted as a neutral mediator through JAMS. He is experienced in resolution of disputes involving complex construction defect and insurance litigation and arbitration issues, as well as simpler disputes, which require a neutral party to assist the parties in reaching a consensus. He has successfully mediated dozens of cases, and is well known for his ability to evaluate likely trial outcomes and explain those in a way that is easily understandable to litigants and attorneys alike.

Cindie D. Hernandez

Cindie Hernandez focuses a substantial portion of her practice to representing developers, general contractors and subcontractors in construction, construction defect and related insurance disputes, including other complex and mass-tort civil litigation matters, environmental/toxic tort and accessibility matters. Having joined in 2000, she has participated in the firm's expansion to maintain effective and cost-efficient defense litigation techniques to well serve its construction clientele. She has the honor of becoming the firm's first female shareholder, and over the past 13 years, has dedicated her practice to representing developers and general contractors to gain extensive experience in successfully managing and litigating claims involving significant risk exposure and risk transfer. She holds the highest Martindale-Hubbell Preeminent AV Peer Review Rating.

Mrs. Hernandez earned her dual B.S. degrees from the University of Idaho and her J.D. from the Western Michigan University Cooley School of Law. She is a member of the Nevada and Colorado Bars, permitting her to practice in all courts in Nevada and Colorado, and the United States District Court of Nevada. She maintains memberships in the Las Vegas Defense Lawyers Association and the Colorado Defense Lawyers Association. She is also a Claims Litigation Management (CLM) member, who was selected amongst other nation-wide volunteers to co-develop the Nevada Section of the greater CLM Claims Handling Wiki, a comprehensive state-by-state claims handling guide.

When not representing her construction clients, Mrs. Hernandez, in conjunction with other key firm personnel, worked to secure the 2005 Medium Size Firm Pro Bono Firm of the Year honor from the Legal Aid Center of Southern Nevada, and the 2013 Lied Award for Most Pro Bono Hours for a law firm and the 2013 Lied Award for Most Pro Bono Hours as an attorney. As a direct result of this work, Ms. Hernandez has strong experience in handling general liability and landlord/tenant disputes and maintains her pro bono representation. Adding to this, Mrs. Hernandez achieved success before the Nevada State Legislature (77th Session, 2013) to help secure the enactment of SB 335, a measure to advance the practice of Nevada's health-care providers through her work as the Nevada representative to the National Association of Chiropractic Attorneys.

Ms. Hernandez has also served as a guest moderator for professional seminars offered in the southwest region of the United States.

Ms. Hernandez was recognized as a top lawyer in Vegas, Inc., in 2013.

Natasha A. Landrum

Ms. Landrum joined the firm in 2001, and became a partner in 2006. In 2000, Ms. Landrum relocated to Las Vegas, Nevada, to join a boutique litigation firm specializing in complex civil litigation (including multi-district litigation), class actions, commercial and business litigation, construction defect litigation on behalf of homeowners and homeowner associations, CC&R enforcement and interpretation, land use, trademark litigation, personal injury and wrongful death. Ms. Landrum has also drafted proposed changes for NRS Chapter 116 at the request of homeowner interest groups to submit to the Nevada Legislature.

Currently, the primary focus of her practice is in defending developer, general contractor and subcontractors in construction defect litigation, injury and premise liability suits. Ms. Landrum remains involved in other complex civil litigation involving transactional disputes and environmental torts, as well as employment law and plaintiff injury. She has extensive experience in all stages of litigation including Appeals and has handled matters through verdict along with a successful defense decision through binding Arbitration. Ms. Landrum's practice extends throughout Southern Nevada, Northern Nevada and Northern California.

Originally, a native of the Northern California Peninsula Bay Area, Ms. Landrum moved on to University of California at Santa Barbara where she received a dual Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science and Sociology in 1996. Ms. Landrum later attended California Western School of Law in San Diego, and received her Juris Doctorate in 1999. While in law school, Ms. Landrum was a recipient of the Dean's Scholarship from 1996 through 1999. After immediately becoming licensed in California, Ms. Landrum originally practiced in the fields of domestic litigation, personal injury and administrative law.

In addition to her active memberships with the State Bars of Nevada and California, Ms. Landrum is admitted to practice before the United States District Courts, Southern District of California and District of Nevada. Ms. Landrum helped spearhead the Southern Nevada construction defect bar's current efforts to arrive at uniform protocols involving case management and mediation. She has served as a speaker for professional seminars regarding insurance and additional insured endorsements as well as the state of the law in complex construction defect litigation.

Ms. Landrum holds the highest Martindale-Hubbell Preeminent AV Peer Review Rating.

Jeffery A. Garofalo

Mr. Garofalo joined as a partner in May 2006. He earned his Bachelor of Arts in political science from the University of California, San Diego in 1989, and his Juris Doctorate from University of the Pacific, McGeorge School of Law in 1992. He is licensed to practice in all Courts in the States of California and Nevada. He holds the highest Martindale-Hubbell Preeminent AV Peer Review Rating.

His practice emphasizes business and construction litigation, where he has successfully represented clients in some of the largest complex cases litigated in these jurisdictions. Mr. Garofalo is on brief in two California appellate decisions addressing contractor licensing issues and contractual indemnity obligations, and he successfully argued in the Nevada Supreme Court to reverse a dismissal of an investor claim arising from improper fund control and embezzlement on a large commercial development.

Mr. Garofalo has been a guest lecturer to the paralegal program at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, speaking on construction defect case management. He is a member of the Clark County Bar Association, sits on the national Board of Governors for the Human Rights Campaign and he has served as pro-bono counsel for indigent clients through Clark County's Aids/HIV assistance program. He is an attorney volunteer for Ya Es Hora, a program that assists legally documented residents with applications for U.S. citizenship. Since his appointment by Governor Jim Gibbons in 2009, he has served on the board of directors for Nevada's Public Employee Benefits Program.

Jennifer E. Mullen

Ms. Mullen graduated in 1994 from The University of Massachusetts Amherst with a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science. She went on to complete her Juris Doctorate in 1996 at St. Johns University in New York City, earning the Amjur Award for Evidence and Legal Writing. Ms. Mullen was a member of the Journal of Legal Commentary and has several published academic and artistic works including, Statutes of Repose— The Design Professional’s Defense to Perpetual Liability 10 St. John’s Journal of Legal Commentary 697. She holds the highest Martindale-Hubbell Preeminent AV Peer Review Rating.

She became licensed in Nevada in 1996 and was involved in the first case successfully tried under Nevada’s construction defect law. Her career is focused on preventing and defending construction litigation. She was with the firm at its inception in Las Vegas and left to pursue a broader experience in the homebuilding industry including development of comprehensive risk management strategies, implementation and development of safety and quality standards and general land use law for builders and developers. She has advised builders throughout the country, and has served on numerous Boards of Directors for general contractors and developers. Ms. Mullen frequently speaks to conferences of builders and developers on the topics of quality control and effective risk management to reduce construction litigation. She re-joins the firm from her previous position as Risk Manager and General Counsel for one of Nevada’s largest privately held builders. Ms. Mullen is licensed to practice in Nevada, Nebraska, and Arizona. Having recently relocated to Arizona, Ms. Mullen co-manages our Arizona office.

Robert A. Carlson

Mr. Carlson is the managing partner of the firm's Florida office and is a board certified specialist and expert in construction law by the Florida Bar. He is a member in good standing of the State and Federal bars of Florida, the United States Virgin Islands, and Nevada. Mr. Carlson graduated from the Max M. Fisher College of Business at the Ohio State University and earned his Juris Doctorate from Capital University Law School (cum laude). Prior to joining the firm, Mr. Carlson clerked for the United States Attorney's Office in Washington D.C. In addition to being board certified in construction law, he holds the highest Martindale-Hubbell Preeminent AV Peer Review Rating.

Mr. Carlson's primary practice is focused on complex tort and commercial litigation where he has successfully represented clients in high value construction, products liability, class action and insurance matters. Recently, Mr. Carlson has successfully represented a contingent of home builders in a 30,000 plus home class action litigation. He has also recently represented a plastic bag manufacturer and obtained a jury verdict and judgment in excess of 10 million dollars on behalf of his client. More recently, he secured a defense verdict for one of the firm's general contractor clients after a four-week jury trial in Central Florida, after which the court directed a verdict in his favor against the client's subcontractors, finding they owed the client a contractual duty to defend.

Mr. Carlson has also served as a speaker and panelist on issues effecting complex construction litigation across the United States, as well as methods of reducing litigation costs through case management plans.

John Marking

Mr. Marking is the managing partner of the Southern California office of the firm. He is admitted to the California Bar, as well as all U.S. District Courts in California. He is also a member in good standing of the Orange County Bar Association. ## DIVERSITY AND COMMUNITY

Diversity

We recognize and embrace the ever-growing diversity that our clients, colleagues, and employees bring to us. Our desire to provide a welcoming and inclusive workplace assists us in recruiting outstanding legal professionals who can apply their unique perspectives to the work of representing our clients. We promote diversity from the top. Four of our ten partners are women, and the Asian-American, Hispanic, and LGBT communities are represented within the partnership. We seek outstanding individuals who want to offer their best to our culture and service of our clients. We are an equal opportunity employer that does not discriminate on the basis of age, gender, ethnic origin, race, creed, sexual orientation, or gender identity.

Community

It is our philosophy that good lawyers are leaders not only in the courtroom but also in the community. Our attorneys, staff and families hold positions of leadership in several philanthropic and volunteer endeavors. We coach teams such as Miracle League Baseball, hold appointed positions on public boards of directors, participate in Inns of Court, and serve as attorney volunteers for initiatives like Ya Es Hora, a citizenship workshop.

Our staff is equally dedicated to promoting educational opportunities to those in need, as well as enhancing their own credentials. Opportunities for various speaking engagements have been extended to our knowledgeable staff, and we are pleased to support them in their efforts to continue their investments in education.

Our work family remains dedicated to serving the needs of those in our community. The power of spoken words and kind acts is personified in their teaching and mentoring opportunities with those less fortunate than us. It's not rare to find our work family assisting established charitable organizations in our community like Rachel's Vineyard, Women's Resource Center, St. Vincent's Matthew's Closet, Shade Tree, the Poverello House, and assisting with children and young adult ministries. Their efforts in this regard help encourage and help those who are the beneficiaries of their dedication.

Several members of our work family are very athletic. We have participated in the City of Las Vegas corporate Olympics, “Corporate Challenge,” for the past several years. We are pleased to have gained recognition in various competitions all aimed at promoting physical and mental wellness in and out of the law practice arena.

We remain committed to giving back to the community. Our firm is a prior winner of Pro Bono Firm of the Year and the distinguished honor of the 2013 Pro Bono Project Lied Award for Most Pro Bono Hours for a law firm. For 2010, Aurora M. Maskall was honored as the Pro Bono Attorney of the Year, after devoting over 900 hours to the legal representation of clients in divorce, domestic violence, adoption, and children’s rights cases, and received well-earned recognition for her pro bono efforts in 2011 and 2012, in addition to other employees of the firm. Ms. Maskall was also awarded the Lied Award for Pro Bono service and her commitment to public justice was touted in the April 2013 publication of Nevada Lawyer.

Over and above our commitment to assist the Children's Attorney Project, we are expanding our horizons to tout the remarkable efforts of Taking Control of Your Diabetes to promote diabetes education and awareness. Make-a-Wish Foundation remains our focus in our Miami location.

We also participate in our annual holiday “competitions” with other law firms in our community, whose collective goal is provide a memorable holiday season for those less fortunate. This includes a toy drive and family adoptions to ensure that our benefactors have a warm meal and gifts available to share in the holiday spirit. Irrespective of who gains the “win” or “loss” in this year-end tradition, we are certain that there are no losers when it comes to lending a hand to those in need.

In all, we remain committed to giving back to a community that has embraced our firm and our growing clientele. Notwithstanding the economic tide of the local and national markets, we are fortunate that while many other firms are experiencing cutbacks in personnel and income, our firm continues to foster stability and growth since its inception in 1996.
